

'All Things Weird and Wonderful'

Come and see this medieval-style entertainment written specially for the Adur Festival by local playwright Jennifer Pulling.

"When Louise conjures up the Green Man in St Mary's churchyard she goes time travelling and meets the merchant and his wife (from the brass plate in the north aisle) as well as other intriguing characters from Shoreham past and present!"

Performances will take place in the churchyard every weekend if fine, otherwise inside the church.

Free admission with a retiring collection – bring your own cushion or chair!

Do come and support this exciting new addition to our Festival programme.
